

newschannel
UPDATE

VEHICLE DISTRIBUTION & LOGISTICS NEWSLETTER

August 5, 2008

Model Year 2009 C63 AMG Performance Package

Due to a coding error, some initial production 2009 C63 AMG vehicles with the new AMG Performance Package (030) were produced with limited slip differential and increased 174 mph top speed only, but are missing several package elements.

Three features were not included: front compound brakes, performance package suspension and alcantara inset steering wheel.

The 2009 C63 AMG Performance Package ($3,990) has been corrected as of September production and now includes all five features as planned:

- Limited slip differential
- 174 mph revised top speed (155 mph standard)
- AMG compound front brakes
- AMG Performance Package suspension system
- Leather / Alcantara AMG steering wheel

We are taking the following actions to rectify this issue.

1. Changeable production units will show the complete 030 package in the system today.
2. Produced units that have limited slip differential (471) and 174 mph top speed (251) listed and priced as stand-alone options at $1,200 and $1,250 respectively.
3. For units already shipped / delivered, MBUSA will issue a $1,540 MSRP credit to the delivering dealer to compensate their customers for the missing features. Monroney labels will also be re-printed and sent directly to the dealership.
4. Due to the labor and logistics involved, MBUSA does not plan to offer a retrofit.

We regret the inconvenience to you and our customers and we are working to minimize any business impact and to ensure our customers pay for what they receive.

