Options In Detail

Center Airbag - 325 (Standard)

Additional airbag for increased front occupant protection in the event of a side impact

The center airbag can protect the driver and front passenger from colliding in the event of a side collision. The center airbag is installed in the seat cushion on the inside of the driver's seat and is triggered in the event of a corresponding collision.

AMG ACTIVE RIDE CONTROL

Standard

Stability meets agility: AMG ACTIVE RIDE CONTROL specifically compensates for rolling movements thanks to state-of-the-art electronics. Suspension and steering respond highly precisely to the driving conditions and road surface. You benefit at the wheel from an intense, dynamic AMG driving sensation. And the passengers enjoy excellent ride comfort.

Your suspension comes with active electromechanical stabilisers with AMG-specific control on both axles. The sensors analyze both driving maneuvers and the road surface up to 500 times per second. Body movements are compensated for immediately with maximum precision. The result: when cornering, accelerating and braking, plus when driving over road surface damage, the effects of rolling are reduced to a minimum.

The continuous stability ensures outstanding handling and first-class driving safety. Your vehicle glides through bends as if on rails and provides outstanding damping comfort when driving in a straight line thanks to a softer response. The compensating stabilization even has a noticeable positive effect on off-road sections.

Rear Axle Steering

Standard

Experience Mercedes-Benz's leadership claim even when parking: the rear-axle steering adjusts the steering angle by up to 9° and reduces the turning circle considerably. Your car almost handles like a compact car when maneuvering. At higher speeds, on the other hand, you drive with the effortless superiority afforded by the long wheelbase.

At speeds below 37 mph, the rear wheels steer in the opposite direction to the front wheels - when parking by up to 9° counter to the front axle angle. The wheelbase is virtually shortened depending on the situation, making your vehicle more nimble, maneuverable and agile. This is additionally noticeable when making a turn, quickly changing direction and maneuvering.

At speeds above 37 mph, the rear wheels steer by up to 2.5° in the same direction as the front wheels. The resulting virtually extended wheelbase offers you tangible advantages: increased handling stability and handling safety at high speeds and during fast lane changes or sudden evasive manoeuvres.

In addition, less steering angle input is required during dynamic maneuvers, such as when driving on a country road - and your vehicle delivers a sportier response to steering commands. This function is implemented via the dynamic handling control system integrated into the ESP®. The rear axle is steered via an electromechanical central actuator with trapezoidal thread.
